ADVANCED PLACEMENT (APLIT) LITERATURE AND COMPOSITION
ENROLLMENT AGREEMENT

This certifies that _____ (“Student”) whose address is _____ and whose telephone number is _____ has applied for enrollment as a student of Deborah Cruthers Advanced Placement Literature and Composition course. Total tuition costs are $485.00 per semester, due on August 23, 2007 and January 10, 2008. This does not include all texts, supplies, and fees. The class will consist of at least 105 hours of instruction over a two semester period. Unpaid balances shall accrue interest at the annual rate of 10%.

Deborah Cruthers reserves the right to (a) cancel or postpone the start date of class due to insufficient enrollment or unforeseen circumstance, without notice, (b) substitute or rotate instructors to fit the needs of Deborah Cruthers and/or the best interests of the students and (c) to substitute or eliminate textbooks and/or materials used by previous class groups.

Deborah Cruthers cannot guarantee that the Student will pass the Advanced Placement Examination. The Student understands that a large part of success on the Advanced Placement Examination is based upon his/her commitment and dedication towards study. The Student understands that Deborah Cruthers is not responsible even if the Student is unsuccessful on the Advanced Placement Examination after receiving all instruction.

However, students that attend class regularly, study diligently, complete homework, and abide by policies and rules established by Deborah Cruthers dramatically enhance their chances of success.

Parties agree to mediate any dispute or claim arising from the Agreement prior to submission of any dispute or claim to the court for resolution. Attorney fees shall be awarded to the prevailing party to any dispute or claim, unless that party did not first request mediation, or refused mediation after demand was made, in which case that party is not entitled to an award of attorney fees even if that party is the prevailing party. This printed agreement contains all the terms and conditions of enrollment, and is not to be affected or varied by any verbal or other agreements not in writing.
